

Table of Contents

List of Figures and Tables	10
Selected Abbreviations	11
Introduction	13
Chapter 1: The 'Tree Model' for Minority Integration	17
A. State Responses to the Challenge of Diversity and Cohesion	18
B. Multiculturalism: A Critical Appraisal	23
C. The Tree Model for Minority Integration	30
D. International Human Rights Law as a Reference for Minority-Majority Relations	34
1. National Courts and International Human Rights Law	36
Conclusions - Human Rights and Minority Protection as Integrating Factors	38
Chapter 2: Old and New Minorities. A Matter of Definition?	40
A. Differences and Similarities between Old and New Minorities	40
1. Why Do We Need a Common Definition of Minorities?	43
2. Common Definition of Minorities: Cons and Pros	48
B. Attempts to find a General Definition of Minorities	53
C. Elements of a Minority Definition	55
1. Objective Factors	56
a) Ethnic, Cultural, Religious or Linguistic Characteristics	56
b) Citizenship	56
c) Numerical Minority	58
d) Non-dominant Position	59
2. Subjective Factors	60
a) Sense of Solidarity, Will to Survive and Self-Identification	60
Conclusion - Beyond the Old/New Minority Dichotomy	62

Chapter 3: Identity, Citizenship and Membership of a Polity	68
A. National Identity and Membership of a Polity	70
B. Is National Citizenship still relevant?	72
C. Citizenship and Sovereignty of Nation-States	76
D. The Challenge of Multiple Citizenship in Nation-States	80
E. European Citizenship and Long-Term Residence	84
Conclusion - Developing Membership and Complementary Identities	89
 Chapter 4: Defining a Common but Differentiated Protection of Minorities	 93
A. Introduction	93
B. Individual versus Collective Rights: The 'Securitisation' of Ethnic Relations	99
C. Right to Existence and Recognition of Minority Groups	103
D. Equality and Non-Discrimination	109
1. Universal System of Protection: The United Nations	109
2. European System of Protection: The Council of Europe	113
a) The European Convention on Human Rights	113
i. Protocol No. 12	115
3. European System of Protection: The European Union	120
a) The Racial Equality Directive and the Employment Framework Directive	120
b) The EU Charter of Fundamental Rights	127
4. Equality and Non-Citizens	130
a) Universal Standards: The United Nations	130
b) European Instruments: The Council of Europe	133
i. The European Convention on Human Rights	133
Protection of 'Integrated' Aliens	135
ii. The European Social Charter	141
iii. The European Convention on the Legal Status of Migrant Workers	145
iv. The European Convention on Establishment	146
c) European Instruments: The European Union	147
i. The Council Directive on Family Reunification	147
ii. The Long-Term Residents Directive	150
5. Specific Aspects of the General Rule of Equality	155
a) Affirmative Actions	155
b) Differences of Treatment Based on Citizenship	162

E. The Right to Identity and Diversity	172
a) Identity Rights and Religion	193
F. Effective Participation in Public Life	211
1. Political Participation	217
a) Institutions and Mechanisms for Effective Participation	217
i) Ministries or National Offices or Officers for Minorities	217
ii) Advisory and Consultative Bodies	217
iii) Minority Associations	218
b) Electoral Representation	219
i) Dissolution of Political Parties	221
ii) The Right to Stand for Election	223
iii) 'Guaranteed' Representation and Quotas	225
c) Political Participation and New Minorities	226
G. Majority-Minority Relationship: Human Rights as Limits to Tolerance - The Diversity Management Decalogue	229
Conclusion - Defining Common but Differentiated Protection of Minorities	239
 Chapter 5: Accommodating Diversity and Unity: The Squaring of the Circle?	 244
A. Integration as Paradigm of an Inclusive Europe	244
B. Integration Policies as 'Fertiliser' of the Tree Model for Minority Integration	247
 Conclusions - The Tree Model: The Best of All Possible Integration Models?	 253
Bibliography	259